

THE NEWS.

Governor Lewis being still absent from the State, nothing is officially known as to the number of men which Wisconsin will be called upon to furnish under the hundred day call. All the other Governors have already taken action in the matter. Iowa has called for ten regiments as her quota of these special troops, and it is presumed that our own complement cannot fall short of six regiments. It seems as if this state was pretty nearly as "sucked orange," as far as raising men is concerned. Especially will the call fall with severity upon us now when the plow must not remain idle in the furrow, nor the seed be withheld from the soil. But the fervid patriotism of our people will be sufficient to meet any emergency or demands that the country may make upon them, and as the time is short for which they are called out, no doubt but they will respond with the same promptness and alacrity that they have heretofore done.

A report has reached Memphis that Governor's cavalry have fought and defeated a portion of Forrest's men, under McCullough, and captured a large number of wagons, horses, mules and prisoners.

Our dispatches to-day do not put any better face upon matters in Banks' department.

A heavy gale prevailed yesterday on Lake Michigan. Three vessels stranded outside the Milwaukee harbor, and it was feared much damage would result to the shipping.

Governor Bramlette, of Kentucky has tendered the Government 20,000 troops for the hundred days service.

Mr. Lincoln Will not Plow for Himself.

At a meeting of the Brooklyn Union Club, on Thursday evening Postmaster Lincoln of that city, made a speech, in which he said:

"Do not know Mr. Lincoln a long time, and long ago as 1858 expressed his opinion to him that he would be the candidate of the Republican party. Abraham Lincoln said, 'all our folks are for Mr. Seward.' The speaker replied that though three-fourths of the Republicans were for Seward, if he could not carry Illinois and Indiana he (Lincoln) would get the nomination. He intimated he had not half as much interest in it as I had. From the time he was nominated till he was elected President, Mr. Lincoln would do nothing to help himself. He said, 'If elected, I shall do the best I can; but you need not come here for me to plow for myself. I will not do it.' While the Chicago Convention was in session, Mr. Lincoln was apprised of the probable result. He replied, 'Make no combinations for me; I will stand by no combinations. I was in the President's private office for six weeks ago, and while waiting for an interview, a gentleman who was very intimate with the President came to me and showed me a document relating to Presidential matters. Said he, I have just been trying to read that to the President; he says he does not want any such stuff about him; he has got enough to do without President making till the war is over.'

If Mr. Lincoln wishes to 'plow for himself' the best team he can harness to his plow, will be GRANT, MEADE, THOMAS, SHERMAN, HOOKER and BURNSIDE. It is now only about six weeks until the meeting of the Baltimore convention, and in the mean time, some important victory has not been achieved by the armies of the Union; if some substantial success he not gained over the enemies that now confront us and defy our flag, will not the people demand of that convention that it give them a candidate a man of more energy and decision of character than Mr. Lincoln? The American people are somewhat fickle in their attachment to public men, and the idol of to-day is forgotten to-morrow; and although Mr. Lincoln is undoubtedly the first choice of the loyal people of these States at the present moment, will he be such choice when the convention meets on the 7th of June next? In our judgment, the answer will be found in our military successes or defeats. If the massacre of Fort Pillow, and the disaster at Plymouth are to be followed by other more important and decisive successes for the rebel cause, Mr. Lincoln's 'plowing' will be indefinitely postponed. Such action might not be just towards the President, who is not always to blame for reverses, but it is what will very likely take place under the circumstances we have supposed.

The War Department has ordered appropriate honors to be paid to the memory of Maj.-Gen. Totten, his military career of more than half a century having been one of continued usefulness and distinguished services. For the past twenty-six years he was at the head of the Engineer Department.

The following letter was received by a gentleman of Poughkeepsie through the sanitary fair post-office.

SANTAHARA P. OFFIS.
DEAR SIR:—Enclosed please find Ten dollars—if you can. Very respectfully, Yours,
JOHN BILLINGS.

After the exonerating report in Representative FRANK BLAIR's case and his speech on Saturday, some of his admiring friends in the House, with others, purchased for him a sword with a solid silver scabbard, belt and sash, costing in all $500, which were presented him. He will soon rejoin the army in the West.

The Philadelphia Press makes an announcement, 'on very good authority,' that a public wedding is soon to take place at the Academy of Music, between a rebel prisoner in Fort Delaware and a lady of Philadelphia, at a dollar admission, for the benefit of the funds of the Sanitary Commission.

STATE NEWS.

C. K. Wells has been appointed Postmaster in Milwaukee in place of John Lockwood resigned. The Broadhead Independent says that since Monday, three or four more of our citizens have gone out of our village, bound for the gold bearing fields of the up Idaho or adjacent territories, carrying with them their household goods and families. During the past week there have also passed through our village, two trains of three or four wagons, each bound for the same land of gold. The Daily Wisconsin states that the two marble front stores formerly occupied by Sexton Brothers, was sold on Saturday, by D. P. Hull (for James Ludington) to Gustav Pfeil, for $30,000 in cash. The Eau Claire Press says a destructive fire occurred early last Friday morning at the extensive smith and wagon shop of Messrs. McFlour & Co., and occupied by A. Henderson, on the west side. The buildings were nearly new, and cost over fifteen hundred dollars two years ago, and which, with about five hundred dollars worth of tools belonging to Mr. Henderson, were totally destroyed. The Hudson North Star states that Lake St. Croix is clear of ice, and boats commenced running between Taylor's Falls and Prescott, on the 19th inst.

A New Use for Rubber.—The 'Yankees' of France have put India rubber to a novel purpose. They have made bonnets out of it. The material is tinted the precise color of Leghorn braid, and the bonnets are a precise fac-simile of Leghorn straw. They are evidently pressed in a mould, which renders them the exact counterpart of Leghorn braid, so far as the eye is concerned. They are sold by the importers at fifty to sixty dollars a dozen, about five dollars each. A Leghorn bonnet of equal fineness would cost thirty dollars. We saw a lady, the other day, purchasing one from a milliner's show-case, handsomely trimmed, for eighteen dollars. The purchaser evidently thought she was getting a bargain. She concluded the purchase in the greatest possible expedition, and personally bore away the bonnet. Her idea was that the milliner had made a mistake in the price, and was selling her a thirty-five dollar Leghorn for eighteen dollars. The milliner was quite a little scrupulous, and didn't undecieve her customer as to the character of the purchase.

The point of all this is to inform the unposted reader that the beauty of the India rubber imitations of Leghorn is as evanescent as the flavor of champagne when the cork is withdrawn from the bottles. Unless sedulously shielded from the sun, a few hours exposure brings out the stamped surface, that appears as though it were braided straw, and the bonnet becomes a ruin. Besides this it breaks at the edge, and at best can last but a single season. Once soiled, and it is done for. Still the bonnet is very handsome. As we have said, for five dollars you can get an article as beautiful as the Leghorns that none but the wealthiest can purchase. The possession of fine Leghorns, like the faces, is restricted to the wealthy. The India rubber imitation is meeting with a very extensive adoption.

WHAT MR. TREMBULL SAYS.—Upon the resolution question Mr. Trumbull in the Senate on Friday said:

"I have from the beginning been one of those who were in favor of prosecuting the war in earnest. I have never believed that we could win on war peacefully, or that we meant fighting in peace. I supposed that it meant desolation, destruction and death; and that the more terrible we made this war to the enemies of the country the sooner it would be over, and in the end probably it would be a mercy to the rebels themselves to prosecute it with vigor against them."

A GOOD ONE.—A private letter from a rebel in Alabama, says that a minister down in that State nearly got himself into trouble on one of Jeff. Davis' late days, by giving out Dr. Watt's hymn, commencing:

"And now we watch yet still,
And do we yet rebel?
The 'rebels' are the 'rebels' still,
That we are out of hell."

The discussion at the time the letter was written, was pretty warm, whether the preacher was 'a bit of a wag,' or a very careless fellow, or an 'Abolition traitor.'

ROUGH ON THE BOYS.—In 'Dixie' a certain number of journeyman printers for each office are exempted from conscription. The commissioners on the four papers at Atlanta, Georgia, recently struck for $157 per thousand ems, and all the papers are able to pay that price at once suspended publication. The rebel conscript officers as soon as the printers quitted work and thereby lost their exemption, seized them and marched them off to camp for military service.

A week ago the workmen employed upon the dome of the capitol at Washington discovered that a dove was making her nest in the ample sleeve of the huge golden goddess. Day after day, week after week, the industrious bird, with the assistance of her mate, was observed to fly back and forth while gathering materials for the purpose. Her home is now established in the sleeve of liberty, and in due time she will send her broodings forth from thence into the world.

BIG HEADS.—The St. Paul Pioneer says there is a squaw of the Lake Superior Chippewas, now residing at Bad River, not apparently afflicted with hydrocephalus or any other disease, whose head is larger than the inside rim of a half a bushel, as has been proved by frequent measurement by the curious.

'BARBAROUS WARFARE.'—The London Times and its echoes have much to say about the 'barbarous' manner in which this war against the Rebellion has been conducted by us. But what will they say to the fact that the allies in Denmark opened fire upon Sonderburg without notice, and killed eighty innocent women and children.

A Boston merchant who failed twenty years ago and was subsequently able to pay all his debts, has recently also paid the interest on these debts, which he was unable to meet when he settled the principal.

LIFE IS BUT A SPAN.

Life is but a span of hours.
One is 'Ago,' the other 'Prime';
Up and down the hill our course is,
'Go in,' 'poise,' 'make your time.'

Boyhood is the whip of pleasure;
Youthful folly gives a stroke;
Manhood sends him to his lair;
'Let me slip—they're tough as oak.'

'If you're there,' the stakes we'll pocket;
To the winds let our love be sent;
Time, 'Ago' and 'Prime' in our hand;
'Give 'em a whack, and let 'em vent.'

On the sunny road to fifty,
'Ago' is 'Prime' and 'Prime' is 'Ago';
'Ago' is 'Prime' and 'Prime' is 'Ago';

HISTORY OF LIFE.
Dry-drawn. Within a curtained room,
Piled to fountains with perfume,
A lady lay at point of death,
She rested in undressing night.
Day closed. A child had seen the light,
And from the mother's arms was torn,
She rested in undressing night.
Spring came. The author's grave was green,
And near it oftentimes was seen
A gentle boy with thoughtful mien
And soul as late a lefty place.
And then he died! But when before
His funeral was held and the story
Laid, Death, and all there is of gloom,
—Darryl Cornwell.

FROM LIFE!
It is not intended, or pretended, that Pictures can be taken as fast as the camera is pointed. We are not undertaking to compete with others in the price of our pictures, but it is promised that the price of our pictures will be as low as the same quality of work can be done for anywhere. It is a promise which we have never broken, and we intend to keep it. We have no other business, and we intend to keep it. We have no other business, and we intend
